Mansfield's "Likeness." Richard Mansfield once asked Frank A. Nankivell to make a picture of him. The actor explained that he wanted an imitation of an old Roman coin with his own profile shown instead of Caesar's.

"Do you want an absolute likeness, or shall I idealize it a bit?" asked Nan-

"I want an absolute likeness," re-plied Mr. Mansfield stiffly, and the artist made a sketch of his patron. When the completed picture-a splendid piece of work that looks as if it were embossed-was shown to Mr. Mansfield he was not pleased. "It looks like a prizefighter," said

Mr. Mansfield. "That is not my fault," said Nanki-rell. "You know that you said you wanted a likeness."

There was a further exchange of courtesies, and then Mansfield suggested that the artist try again. "Excuse me," said Nankivell. "Once will

"Well, change this picture a little," said the actor. "Perhaps you can fix "Not a fix," said the artist as he rolled up the picture and prepared to go with a parting shot. "You don't want an artist to draw your picture; you want a lithographer. Good day."

A Praying Man. When men begin their prayers with O thou omnipotent, omniscient, omnint, all seeing, ever living, bless ed potentate, Lord God Jehovah!" I should think they would take breath. Think of a man in his family, hurried for his breakfast, praying in such a strain! He has a note coming due, and it is going to be paid today, and he feels buoyant, and he goes down on his knees like a cricket on the hearth and piles up these majestically moving phrases about God. Then he goes on to say that he is a sinner; he is proud to say that he is a sinner. Then he asks for his daily bread. He has it, and he can always ask for it when he has it. Then he jumps up and goes over to the city. He comes back at night and goes through a similar wordy form of "evening prayer," and he is called "a praying man." A praying man? I might as well call myself an ornithologist because I eat a chicken once in awhile for dinner.-Henry
